ASU Prep uses a front-loaded support model for our interns. You will receive extensive training and support during the first part of your internship, then slowly transition to the experience of having your own school when you are ready. We only take one intern a year, so you can expect a supervision experience tailored to your needs.

ASU Prep has a strong and close-knit school psychology team. Over the past several years, we have worked hard to develop unified, consistent processes, and evaluation philosophies that support the whole child learner. While you will spend a significant amount of time working with students in the assessment process, our psychs are also part of our school-based behavioral health team you can expect to also have the opportunity to co-facilitate groups, do some individual counseling, provide teacher support/consultation, give presentations to staff/parents, and work with students in crisis. You will partner with our highly skills teachers, related services, administrators, interventionists, counselors, and social workers.
