

The Richard Ruiz Scholar in Residence & Lecture Series Presents

CRIP-BILINGUAL FUTURE-MAKING: TESTIMONIANDO EDUCATIONAL POSSIBILITIES

Saturday, April 5th | 11:00 am - 12:30 pm AZ Time

Join us at the Worlds of Words Center, RM 453 or via Zoom

Presented by

Dr. Taucia González

Department of Disability & Psychoeducational Studies University of Arizona, College of Education

Taucia will uncover the historical legacies of limited educational opportunities experienced by bilingual Latina/o/x high school students labeled with disabilities (LWD) due to deficit-oriented understandings of the intersections of disability and language. This presentation examines how Diego, a bilingual Latino LWD, used testimonio as a speculative tool to reimagine educational possibilities rooted in his experience, and draws on cripistemology and cultural historical activity theory.

An in-person reception in honor of Dr. González will be held after the lecture.
